

Organization

- Stakeholders:

Stakeholders include individuals and organizations which are interested in the completion and use of a given product. The amount of stakeholders and different types of stakeholders relies on the versatility and ease-of-use of the product in question. Due to this software's very simple interface and design, stakeholders may include users of all ages and multiple types of organizations who are interested in business development, entrepreneurship and all individuals in the start-up scene generally.

1. Rise Up organization is the main party interested in the system provided as Rise Up will make the system monetized for its users and so an additional source of income will be established through it.
2. Individuals who are interested in establishing a start-up from scratch. With the many insights and advice which can be supplied through the experts, the entrepreneurs can make better business decisions and they will be able to stir their business in a sound way past its beginning critical milestones. While the knowhow may be available through other means, Office Hours offers a platform which is permanent all year with a great degree of flexibility allowing the entrepreneurs to gain the maximum benefit.
3. People who are willing to invest in startups or other seasoned investors looking for their next venture might also use the system to ask the experts about financial information or ask about the economic climate to make better investments as well as ask the experts about which startups are best to invest in.
4. Organizations wanting to maintain and expand their business and organizations who want to take the opinion of experts in order to make good business plans as well as get tips and advice to manage their finances and more.
5. People experienced in a particular field aiming to share their knowledge and people who want to help other entrepreneurs and businesses with their expertise and experience through specialized sessions will also benefit from our system.
6. People with talents who look for advice from parties relevant to their particular fields of talent who want advice regarding how best to utilize themselves, and what is the next best move for themselves.

More specifically, potential stakeholders include:

1. RiseUp
2. Entrepreneurs
3. Investors
4. Incubators
5. Organizations
6. Brands
7. People with talents

- Actors and Goals:

Actors are defined as people or entities who are in direct interaction with the product. These are the people who can be described as the initiators or participators with the system. Actors have a specific aim or goal they wish to accomplish through interacting with this system.

Actor	Actor's Goal
User(initiator)	Searching for experts in a particular topic
User(initiator)	Requesting sessions with experts related to a particular topic.
User(initiator)	Be a part of public or private sessions as a regular registered user.
Expert(initiator)	To give sessions with other users in order to share their knowledge.
User(initiator)	Give a rating to the opposite party of the session. Applicable for both regular users and experts.

This product requires the interaction of minimum two users together to have a session and a chat opened between them, with the possibility of expanding to include multiple users in the session. The user can initiate the sequence of the session by first requesting a session with a particular expert or both regular users and expert can participate in a session together.